Ron Paul - Revolutionary or Anti-Revolutionary?

Ron Paul The Libertarian Wins the 2012 Election?

Ron Paul. Revolutionary, or Anti-Revolutionary?

Today, I would like to talk about a very controversial figure that is out there today. His name is Ron Paul. Many of those in the "conscious" community are well aware of who this man is. He is being heralded as the savior of all freedom and justice on planet earth. But today I want to take a second look at Ron Paul from a few different angles. Because sometimes when you move outside the box, you can end up getting put right inside of another box, not realizing that you are still in the BIG BOX! What do I mean by this? Consider the following.

One of the things that I like to do within this blog is expose the conspiracy behind the conspiracy theories. This is why I dedicated a category of this blog to decoding the matrix.

You know, it's funny. A lot of people watch a few 9/11 documentaries and all of a sudden they think they know all the answers. They often end up getting played even worse than the so called unconscious people. Yes, there is a grand global elitist conspiracy going on in the world right now, and more and more people are waking up to it. We are now in the information age. And after information, comes revolution. This is a beautiful thing, but of course, the diabolical supremacists know this. And they have planned well for it. You see, they know the secrets. They know what's coming long before the masses do, and many people fail to take this into consideration.

And one of the greatest ways to stop a revolution is of course to start your own. Yes, you read me correctly. If I'm going to start a war and I know that people will protest and then revolt, then maybe I'll start my OWN protest. That way whatever revolutionaries would have started their protest will now join mine. But the protest will never cross certain boundaries (that I'm uncomfortable with). And this method is of course great for sniffing out those dissenters also. I can always "neutralize" the sincere ones who don't work for me. I will also "replace" them with someone who will be that dissenting voice, but will never cross the line that I draw.

Things are very rarely what they seem to be. Today, many revolutionary organizations are controlled by the very people that those organizations are supposed to be having a revolution against! A lot of the conspiracy theorists out here are controlled by the conspirators that they are exposing! And because we are in the information age, not the "thinking" age, many people fall for the B.S. that is set up for them. So let's get right to it.

Dictatorship or Democracy?

In order to make the point that I want to make, we have to get back to the basics. Most people if asked, "If you wanted to rule a mass of people, which system would you choose, a dictatorship, or a democracy?" would immediately choose a dictatorship. Why? Because in a democracy, the PEOPLE rule. So if you step out of line, the people will vote you in or out. Now, while I can understand this point of view... if you answered dictatorship, you gave THE WRONG ANSWER! Democracy is the absolute best system to control. Why? Because it gives the appearance of freedom. Harriet Tubman once stated that she could have freed a lot more slaves if they realized that they were slaves! Slavery may be profitable but it is very dangerous (because slaves can always revolt) unless the slaves feel like they are free.

Dictators live in constant fear, because there is always a threat that a united group may rise up and take over and be the NEW dictator. But if that dictator was smart, he would set up a democracy! He could set up a voting system (so everyone's voice could be "heard"). He could set rules so that no one person could rule for too long. Then he could throw in a Congress and a Senate to keep this one person in check. He could then establish 2 different parties (let's say... Democrats and Republicans just for argument sake). And now ladies and gentlemen the cycle is complete.

After one of his parties get's voted in, he is now free to do as he pleases! He still makes all the major decisions. And when the masses get angry at what is going on and the laws that are being passed, they can just vote in the other party (too ignorant to realize that both parties work for him). Nobody will ever REVOLT. They will just REGISTER. Ultimately, the object of the game is to KEEP FROM BEING OVERTHROWN! Remember that objective, because it is the basis of all of the foolishness that goes on these days. Welcome to Illuminati 101: The art of playing both sides.

Update. But wait! What if the masses catch on to the game? What if they began to realize that both of these parties are controlled? UH OH! We are right back at square one. Now, Mr. Dictator is in trouble because a revolution is about to begin! So what can he do to stop this?

Well... maybe he can start a revolution of his own.

Freedom to Fascism

Back in 2006, a movie done by Aaron Russo came out called America: Freedom to Fascism. Unlike many of the other conspiracy movies that have been out since the 90's, this particular movie swept through the nation. It was a good movie and I recommend everyone see it (That's why I have put it in the Movie Center). But I wondered what made Aaron Russo, who had been main stream, come out and do a documentary like this. Well... the answer did come. In an interview with Alex Jones, Russo spoke about how he had had a friend, Nick Rockefeller (of the infamous Rockefeller family). He said that one day; Nick came to him and for what ever reason began to tell him all of these secrets. One world government run by banks, The Amero, The RFID chips etc. He said he told him almost a year before that something would go down on 9/11 (apparently had already told him about NWO). Alex seemed to be helping him out with the interview (at one point he asked him, "Did he say it was going to be perfect because you can't define an enemy?") Aaron said he was trying to recruit him, and that he was his friend. Well... Why did Aaron stay his friend? At one point he even said, "As much as I like you Nick, your ways and my ways are on the opposite side of the fence." Oh... For real?! If he is on the opposite side of the fence, then why were you still "kickin it" with him? Now, me personally, had someone come to me and said we have an evil plan to take over the globe; I wouldn't have been that person's friend for very long. He was also told that most of the people in the Council on Foreign Relations think they are doing the right thing. Oh... Seriously? Who conditioned all these high profile figures to suddenly believe in "Socialism"? Nick even told him about Women's Lib (Feminist movement).

Now... this sequence was very strange to me. First of all... if you study the secret societies, the secret bloodlines, the ruling classes etc, you will see that they operate in a very controlled fashion. Take the Masonics for example. If you are a Masonic, you don't tell secrets... PERIOD. Because if you do, you get killed. Same thing goes with secret societies like Skull and Bones. That's why the information that comes out about these societies is normally leaked out, or they come from anonymous sources. You see... if you have a secret and satanic plan to take over the world... you just don't go and tell everybody what you are doing! That is common sense. As a matter of fact many people have been killed because they were going to come out with, or came out with secret info that wasn't supposed to be out.

So why do I state this? Well, apparently Nick Rockefeller was not briefed on how things around the Matrix. So, as the story goes, he just up and decided to spill his guts to his friend, tell him all these forbidden secrets and then ASS-umed that he was going to join up and not get mad and blow the whistle. And of course, if he doesn't join, oh well... no big deal. I mean, just because he is a MOVIE PRODUCER AND AN ACTIVIST... doesn't mean that he is going to tell someone about it. But if he does, tell someone or worse yet, decides to make a movie, we will just LET him do it (even though we kill other people who try to come out with info). Then, AFTER his movie and his website and the movement is started, we will THEN kill him, to further validate the things he says and does. You know what that sounds like?

Well... maybe he can start a revolution of his own.

Ron Paul 2012

Ron Paul, the alleged founder of The Tea Party now is a very interesting figure. You know, people say that Obama came out of nowhere... but he aint the only one. Ron Paul has been in congress for decades. Up until recently, I had never heard of all of this "Let's end the fed" and "Let's end the federal income tax" until recently. I realize that Ron Paul did run for president in 88. And I'm not sure what his campaign slogan was. But, why the 20 year hiatus? Why did Ron wait so long? Did he just recently come upon this info? Then, there are many avenues of the campaign that seem well... strange. Why is he running Republican? It's obvious that he wasn't going to win the primary in 08.

Then what was also interesting is that, I see Ron Paul speak publicly a lot on TV, but whenever he get's on mainstream networks, he never let's the cat out of the bag (though he eludes to some things). He never lays the smackdown on the unconstitutional Fed, the illegal income tax etc. on mainstream network TV. You only hear that type of info on the underground. I remember seeing a clip of him one time debating at the All American Presidential Forum. He kept saying for example, "People should be able to keep the fruits of their labor." Now of course, all of the conspiracy people know what he means when he says this (he will end federal income tax so people can keep all their money), but the masses of people listening have no idea what he is saying. Keep the fruits of their labor? Come on now. Why didn't he just come right out and say it! "Elect me and you won't have to pay income tax!!" Who wouldn't vote for that? Now when I pose that question to people, the answer I get is always, "Well he can't say that because they wouldn't allow it to be said on TV" Well... I can't disagree with that. But if the is the case, then HOW CAN HE BE THE PRESIDENT! How can you win an election if you can't even tell people what you are going to do?

So now, I am to believe that Ron Paul is going to sweep in from the sky, win the election, waltz into the Oval Office magic bullet to the neck free, stab wound to the stomach free, Lion bite to the head with no one knowing how an animal got on the 7th floor of the Maxwell House Hotel free, drinking non poisonous water, with no injected diseases, single handedly pass a law (despite the fact that the Congress and the Senate are controlled) to END THE FED and everyone will live happily ever after just like our forefathers (who fully endorsed fascism by participating in the slave trade, which is a lot worse than anything that the NWO has come up with, and were a part of the same secret societies like the Masons that are supposedly so bad now because they are trying to enslave Everybody and not just those ethnic people who they decided were 3/5 human beings on that great day that America celebrates) envisioned?

Now if you believe this, are you any less naive than those who vote Democrat or Republican and expect a change?

I hate to be the bearer of bad news, but Ron Paul doesn't have a snowball's chance in Hell of winning a US election. And... Even if Ron Paul DID have a snowballs chance in Hell of winning the US election... He STILL wouldn't have a snowballs chance in Hell of winning the election.

Why?... THE ELECTION IS RIGGED. Hello! How quickly we forget. Let's step in for a refresher course.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JEzY2tnwExs>

Now... if they Stole the elections from Al Gore, and John Kerry (Bush's cousin and fellow Skull and Bones member) what makes you possibly think that "non associated with the Illuminati (if you believe that he is clean)" Ron Paul will be allowed to get in? And if he did, exactly who's best interest would it be in?

I talked about this in my Election Update II post (which also has some good info about the U.S. (S)election process), but one thing that is suspicious to me is how many people are running around crazy talking about Ron Paul, but how very few people are addressing the voting machines. Hmmmmmmm...

Well... maybe he can start a revolution of his own.

Yep... Ron Paul has the Illuminati shaking in their boots!! You know, it's funny how people sit around and make fun of Obama being made out to be a messiah. Is the above any different? The truth is... We are a "Messiah" prone people. always waiting on that one person to save us. Religion, Superhero movies, and Illuminati financed, so called "Revolutionaries" have conditioned us to think this way.

And Ron Paul is that messiah. Yes... Vote for Ron Paul. He is our only chance! Seriously? He is? Who said that? So what if he wasn't running. What would "our" chance be then? What would our options be then? We of course would only have one. But wait! Somebody HAS to be there for the revolutionaries to vote for. Why? Well... what is the object of the game?

The Game

The Masses got all caught up in the so called ObamaNation, but the truth couldn't be held for long. The revolutionaries saw through it and they weren't going for it, and things were about to boil over. But then came Ron Paul to the rescue. But who did he rescue? Someone had to be there to pull the conscious ones back into "The System" But what about those darned Black revolutionaries, not only do they not trust Obama because he is controlled, but Ron Paul can't even phase them because they just don't trust White folks. But not to fret, Cynthia McKinney is here (crying out for the justice of the Katrina victims).

Now, ladies and gentleman. I'm not here to question anyone's motives. I'm not questioning Ron Paul's motives, Aaron Russo's motives, Cynthia McKinney's motives, and as a matter of fact, I'm not even questioning Obama or Palin (who will probably be president when Obama gets done). I'm just observing how the game is being played and trying to alert those who are paying attention. I just want you to THINK first. THEN look into the conspiracy!

So What Is The Solution?

If not Ron Paul, then who. Well first... there is no one solution to this problem. It will take many different movements from a lot of different people to get what needs to be done. But at some point, the people will have to start preparing themselves for what they will do when the government says "NO" to them. The government is not the people's friend. It is the enemy. Why do you think the government is trying to move toward gun control laws? Because they want to disarm the people so they can't fight back! Why do you think the government is passing laws like the S510 (in which TSA was a smoke screen for and may eventually restrict people from growing their own food), and trying to not allow people to refuse toxic vaccines, and not know whether their food is GMO or not? Because they want people sick so they can't fight back. Why do you think that the government puts "Pimp" Juice and mercury in the drinking supply? They want the people passive and stupid so they can't fight back! Why are there so many estrogen promoting chemicals in the water, and also in the food we eat which are darn near turning males into females? Because they don't want Warriors out here... who will fight back! Once again... what is the object of the game?

WHO OUT HERE IS TRYING TO STOP YOU FROM VOTING?! Every celebrity on TV is telling you to do that. So if the TV is controlled by the so called elite, then why are they paying people to come on TV and tell you to do something that will stop them? Why are they spying on their own citizens and trying to put chips in everybody, so they can catch you if you try to sneak and vote for Ron Paul? No... they want to keep dibs on everyone so that if someone tries to "stir the pot" that they can shut them down immediately!

Now, all I'm doing at this point is throwing in a different perspective. You see because, whether or not Ron Paul can help the masses win the game depends on what you think the game is. If you think that we will vote in "libertarians" who will pass laws, reverse the current trend, and bring freedom to the U.S. then Ron Paul may be a revolutionary. But if you believe that at some point things will come blows, and that we will have to FIGHT for our freedom, well... then Ron Paul is the biggest Anti-Revolutionary that we have ever seen.

So... what do you think? I will leave you with this... again.

"We shall have World Government, whether we like it or not. The only question is whether World government will be achieved by conquest or consent."

Paul Warburg in an address to the U.S. Senate 02/17/50
